

eScan Antivirus Toolkit Utility (MWAV)

eScan AntiVirus toolkit utility (MWAV) is a free virus and trojan scanner from MicroWorld Technologies that will help you detect if a virus infects your machine.

This tool checks your registry and other system areas of the damage that a virus could have done. The best part of eScan toolkit utility, is its ability to:

- Scans and provides reports of your system hardisk for any malicious contents. You can select the drive that you want to scan.
- Check illegal dialers program running in memory and inform the user.
- Inform users of any background illegal sniffers or tools like spywares, adware, keylogger etc. running in memory.
- The Utility can be added to the start up, ensuring that the system is scanned everytime it boots.
- The utility is regularly updated on our servers, ensuring that it can detect the nastiest attacks.

The most alarming circumstances rising is when your computer system starts to crash, slows down significantly, that affected your daily business operation or even worst breaking down your communication system with your customer and supplier and your precious company data being damaged.

The problem is getting more distressing in the case where "invisible" IT threat is used to hide undetected in most of the computer systems to spying your company activity. Even this threat can't be detected by some antivirus technologies products that are now offered by others solutions providers.

According to the National Cyber Security Alliance and America Online™ survey:

- Ø 90% of all Windows PCs are infected by spyware.
- Ø 88% of owners of infected systems are not aware their computer is infected.
- Ø 75% of PC owners believe they are safe from cyber threats.
- Ø Only 24% of PC owners are actually knowledgeable about how to handle spyware.
